This week's hot topic

Restoring our hospital services

Many of you and your families will know that the COVID-19 pandemic has had a big impact on the NHS, and although COVID cases in our hospitals have now reduced we still have a lot of work to do to restore services to the same level they were before the pandemic.

As a result United Lincolnshire Hospitals NHS Trust (ULHT) and NHS Lincolnshire Clinical Commissioning Group are working closely together to restore hospital services across the county as quickly as possible.

A particular focus is on the treatment patients receive at hospitals like non-emergency operations, also known as elective care, since many services were stood down in 2020 to release theatre staff to support the increased demand on local intensive care units due to COVID-19.

We will be posting all the latest information about how we intend to restore these services in our hospitals on our webpages – which can be found at Restoring our hospital services – Lincolnshire CCG

Grab a job at one of our walk-in sites

GRAB A JOB

Dementia Services Review – We want to hear from people with dementia, their families and carers 🗨️

Complete the online survey

We are currently reviewing the services available for people with dementia and their carers across the county. We are trying to build a picture of how these services work currently and make improvements as required. In order to support this review, we are keen to hear from people with dementia, their families and carers regarding their views and experience of these services, what works well and what is missing or could be improved.

The deadline for completing the survey is midday Tuesday 31st August 2021.

Lincolnshire County Council – Join the County Views Panel

Councils across the Greater Lincolnshire area want to ensure that people, groups and organisations can have their say about their local area. This helps us to improve peoples' experiences and realise where we're getting things right

To make that easier, Lincolnshire County Council has established a residents' panel known as County Views. We are looking to expand the panel with people across Greater Lincolnshire area of all ages and backgrounds. As the panel grows, we are keen to get the broadest cross section of views that we can.

You can sign up for the panel here to have your say on climate change and on other important future topics.
