'Don't delay' invitees in Lincolnshire told as mobile clinic for ground-breaking NHS-Galleri cancer study rolls into town

Participants in the world's largest trial of a revolutionary new blood test, Galleri™, which can detect more than 50 types of cancer often before symptoms appear, have been arriving for their appointments.

Selected residents throughout the county, aged 50-77, who have received a letter from the NHS inviting them to participate in the NHS-Galleri trial, are being urged to book their appointment and take part.

Mobile clinics – one large unit and a smaller mobile unit – will be at various locations throughout Lincolnshire until the middle of May.

There has never been a better time to join the NHS Lincolnshire Citizens Panel!

In Lincolnshire, the Citizens' Panel is an exciting development for the NHS that will help us gather feedback from a sample of our population and give local residents the opportunity to share their opinions and views on health and care services within the county. The information we receive will help to ensure that services are designed and delivered to take into account what matters most to our residents.

What's in it for me?

- You will be helping to ensure we provide better quality care in a way that matters the most to Lincolnshire residents
- You will have the opportunity to have your views heard by local healthcare decision makers
- You will find out about new plans and ideas for Lincolnshire healthcare.
